

LOGICAL DATA MODEL

This is a simple logical representation of our project, where in many resumes are put up against certain job requirements, and after being processed by our algorithm, a ranked list is generated which provides better insight of the candidates for the concerned HR, in a very simple and easy to understand format.

